

I'm happy, vibrant, I like the free things in life. I'm natural, hard working and passionate. I've had some great life experiences good and bad which I'm happy to have gone through.

What does that breeze mean?

Fresh air
to breathe in only to exhale
Dominance through rescue Freedom in safety
and knowing the saviour
for safety's sake

I love to travel and hope this year won't be too hectic with things so I can move around and see more.

Waiting for them
I drag on a cigarette

easy draw
somewhat sour
somewhat sharp
Tonight I'll sleep and dream
and dream

I don't have a large family but we do have a lot of fun. I'm a girlie girl, Shopping and Movies is what I call a good day. I can cook some nice meals as well, Asian food being one of my favourites.

I forgot to wash my face today

In the bathtub
I sat scared, confused, morose
Down
Battered

Waiting to be safe

to come clean supposing I was dirty
expecting a miracle rationalising disappointment anticipating discomfort

I'm interested in getting to know some new people and the one guy that makes me smile.
